

iPhone excess

you use me like a dummy every time you're bored I don't get a moment's peace your mouth drones on and on all about how you feel never considering me except when to fry my brain with electric shock treatment cause I'm burnt out you erase my memories to fill me with more crap you think you can buy my time draining my energy monthly like PMT it's clear who wears the wifi when was the last time you let me surf with G?

you talk to me in code when I ignore your face the language of love from me is 'give me a break' stop looking me up and down googling me continually your eyes fixated and fingers poised for action there's no privacy between us I can't wait until you dump me for a newer model!
