

you are light and love darkness highlights you you are my morning and evening star you are the sound of love you are the reason I live nothing can separate me from you you are a side of a triangle with your dad and me that bends light to make a rainbow

I lead you from my heart I am the reason you are alive without me you would not exist you are a ray of hope you have a purpose

a path
a part to play

I experience your love in thoughts and dreams to me you are forever
you will always exist

I may be described as being off the planet and sometimes spaced out but you are my universe you are my son
